devolo

High-speed Wi-Fi

1x Ethernet port

Far more than just 500 Mbps

Add Wi-Fi and Internet to any room of the home with the devolo dLAN® 550+ WiFi! This compact adapter, with its state-of-the-art design, is simply plugged into any electrical socket. A second one is connected to the router and just like that, the Internet is now directly available over the home's electrical circuit. Compared to conventional adapters, devolo range+ Technology provides considerably more stability, range and bandwidth. Tablets, smartphones and laptops benefit from reliable Wi-Fi at 300 Mbps. Additionally PCs, smart TVs and game consoles can use the adapter's network port. Data transmission over powerlines allows the signal to travel with ease over cable lengths of up to 400 meters, capable of distributing at the other end a new Wi-Fi signal at maximum strength that is unrestricted by walls, furniture and ceilings. The integrated electrical socket ensures that no power socket goes to waste.
